About

Born and raised in Zimbabwe, it was clear from a young age that animals and African wildlife in particular would become a huge part of my life. Along with a passion for art, it only felt natural that these two passions would combine, and the creatures that I grew up surrounded by would become the subjects of my practice.

Having since relocated to the UK, African wildlife remains my subject of choice, maintaining a connection to my homeland and childhood. Elephants, inparticular, are a personal favourite - if you have ever been blessed to spend time in the presence of African elephants, you'd understand why.

Through my career, I have been fortunate ot have been selected for a number of exhibitions and competitions, most notably the DSWF Widlife Artist of the Year, which I have been a finalist 3 times, in 2021, 2022 and 2025. The organizations founder, David Shepherd, remains one of my childhood inspirations.

From July to September 2026, I was incredibly fortunate to be selected as the Artist as Residence at Moon's Camp, in the Lolldaiga Hills, Kenya. The Lolldaiga Conservancy, in which the camp is based, is teeming with wildlife, and along with the most breathtaking vistas, is an artist's dream.

With elephants, buffalo and lion on one's doorstep, sometimes quite literally, it was almost impossible not to feel a wealth of inspiration. The three month period in Kenya felt like a defining moment in my artistic journey, and a step forward in my career.

These are a selection of works completed during my time in Kenya. Each drawing, a memory of the moments spent surrounded by the wildlife that called the place home.
